TIDE STRONG FOR HUGHES

Justice Likely to Get Votes from 24 States on the First Ballot

THE DELEGATIONS ARE BADLY SPLIT

Divisions Are Shown as Representatives from Many States Arrive in Chicago—Roosevelt Is Frankly Hostile to Mr. Hughes.

CHICAGO, June 5. — State delegations began to arrive here yesterday, and with the coming of many scores of them the situation with respect to the battle in the Republican convention over the presidential nomination assumed a more definite outlook. It was strikingly apparent, however, that many of the delegations were badly divided in sentiment.

Chief interest was shown in the line-up of big states like New York and Pennsylvania, which sent unstructured delegates. An unofficial poll of the New York delegation indicated that on the first ballot Hughes would get 43, Root 38, Roosevelt 2 and Major Gen. Leonard Wood 1, with the preference of the three remaining members of the delegation doubtful.

Just how Pennsylvania's 76 delegates will vote is a matter of uncertainty which cannot be cleared away until after Senator Boies Penrose declares himself. About twenty of the Pennsylvanians will vote for Governor Brumbaugh on the first ballot, and the inclination of these is to make Colonel Roosevelt their second choice. Mr. Penrose still indicated to those who talked with him that he was for ex-Senator Philander C. Knox on the first ballot.

Some of the national committeemen and delegates who were in consultation with Mr. Penrose today said they were satisfied that the Senator was conceding nothing when he declared he had not decided on a second choice. He had come to Chicago with an open mind, he told them, and his one desire was to produce party harmony and help to nominate a candidate who would insure party success.

"There has been no clearing up of the situation," said Mr. Penrose. "We stand where we have stood before. The clouds won't break until most of the delegates arrive today or Tuesday, all the candidates, including friends of Colonel Roosevelt. I am willing to do everything that will lead to party harmony."

When the Senator was asked how soon he and other leaders would begin to solve the problem, he looked out of the window of his room toward a park on the lake front.

"You might just as well ask me when the grass there will spring up and the flowers begin to bloom," he answered, and then added:

"The situation is in the hands of somebody else."

The Missouri delegation was polled today with this result: Weeks, 15; Fairbanks, 9; Hughes, 6; Root, 3; doubtful, 3. Ex-Governor Hadley, who was for Hughes, was defeated for the chairmanship of the delegation by Otto F. Stifel of St. Louis, who is for Weeks.

State Senator E. Ackerman of Plainfield, delegate from the Fifth New Jersey district, said: "The New Jersey delegation stands 3 for Roosevelt, 6 for Root, and 19 for Hughes."

They Had the Hardest Yet Experienced in Two Days' Action—Won Back Lost Ground.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 3. (via London, June 5).—round the famous Hill 60 and Sanctuary Wood the Canadians have been doing the stiffest fighting of their experience in the course of the last two days' action. They have held the entire front attacked, and, unless the fighting spreads, this is entirely their battle.

The Germans' guns had been relatively quiet for some days, when they suddenly opened up the heaviest bombardment any Canadian veteran has known, using all kinds of guns, from heavy howitzers to trench mortars, not only battering the trenches, but covering a wide area of ground in the rear to prevent the bringing up of supports.

"But it was not this time as in the earlier battle on the Ypres salient, when the Germans threw three or four shells to one," said an officer. "The British guns returned equal volumes on the Germans after they were in our trenches."

Under support of gunfire, the Canadian battalions, which include many Americans, maintaining the traditions of the first contingent last year at St. Julien, immediately turned on the Germans in a counter-attack. They fought throughout the night and were engaged all Saturday doggedly bombing their way back to the possession of the position which they had lost. Parties rushed in at different points, bombing and bayoneting right and left, and before their fierce work was ended they had regained all but a few yards.

The German advance had been made over a front of 3,000 yards from Ypres-Comines Railway to Hooze Point. This was the most extensive front of any recent attack, and the Canadians responded to the test coolly and skillfully. In the Hooze sector the German attack was stopped with heavy loss.

ECONOMY OF THE UNBREAKABLE Kitchen Ware In More Permanent Form Than Formerly.

With the modern tendency to efficiency comes a tendency to think about what one is doing every day, and count the cost. It would be interesting to know how much money the average American home runs on a moderate income loses by broken dishes. Up to a comparatively recent time, nearly all the dishes used in the kitchen were breakable. Mixing bowls, measuring cups, baking dishes, jars, containers, even milk pans sometimes, were earthenware. Of course, they were sometimes odd pieces of old sets, but these do not go far in cooking for a family. Sooner or later most of the big pieces were sure to come to grief. The pitcher with the broken nose might last a long time if it was only used to hold the buckwheat batter, but a broken nose is a distinct disadvantage to a pitcher when it comes to pouring. None of these dishes cost less than ten or fifteen cents, and some cost a dollar or more. In the course of a year, or five years, the expense of replacing broken earthenware amounted to something.

Then came the era of unbreakable kitchen dishes—not only pots and pans, but bowls, cups, pitchers, jars, milk cans, fish-cakes, coffee pots, all in trig, trim enameled ware of almost any imaginable color. Not only did it displace the breakable earthen plates and pots and jugs and bowls, but it crowded out the perishable tin stuff that was always liable to spring a leak, rust, or get jammed. With even an average amount of care an enameled saucepan will last until you get tired of it and give it away; it will not break, it will not leak, it will not rust. If we have all our kitchen things in this permanent form, we can afford to give a little extra care and money to our dainty china for the table, and the best of it is that the kitchen utensils will also be dainty and attractive to look at. Economy is sometimes the road to beauty.

Everybody Happy.

A vicar of a certain English parish was sitting in his study one morning when in burst the verger in a great state of excitement.

"Mr. —," mentioning the vicar's name, "wants you at once, sir," he exclaimed. "He has married two couples and married the men to the wrong women and he does not know what to do."

"Have they signed the register?" inquired the vicar.

"No," was the verger's response. "Then they can be married again," said the vicar. "Tell Mr. — I will be at the church in a minute or two to perform the ceremony."

In due course the incumbent made his way to the church and found the parties gathered at the entrance. Before he could say anything one of the bridegrooms approached and said: "We have been talking it over, sir, and we have made up our minds to remain as we are." And they did so.

It will never do to talk about the "new" west. Dr. Charles D. Walcott says that near Helena, Mont., are found the oldest animals remains now known, and also the oldest authentic vegetable remains. Some years ago he discovered the remains of crablike animals, suggesting in form fresh water crabs found the world over.
